Can you draw a picture of the giant?	Can you make something from the story? You could use paint / collage / junk materials? I would love to see your photos!

I hope you are all keeping well. This week's challenge grid is slightly different as it is just focusing on the story of Jack and the Beanstalk but if you can, please supplement with some phonics (Mr Mc phonics on YouTube is really good still) and reading. I have also put on some sheets which can be printed if you have access, but please don't worry if you can't. They can be easily drawn onto paper or even with chalks outside. Please send any photos to eyfs@zetland.org.uk. Take care and have a good week!
